Software License Agreement

Read carefully:

I, NEYTON LUIZ DALLE MOLLE, holder of CPF 024.336.29-90, license this software (so called in this agreement) to you only if you accept all the terms contained in this license agreement.

By accepting this agreement, or by installing, loading, accessing, or otherwise copying or using all or part of the software, you agree to be legally bound by this agreement.

A contract will then be formed between us personally, if you license the software for personal use, and the company or other legal entity that you represent.

If you do not agree or wish to submit to or submit to the entity you represent, do not install, upload, access or otherwise copy or use the software. Within 10 (ten) days from the date of signature of this contract, request its cancellation to obtain a refund of the amount already paid.

Installing, loading, accessing, or using this software or any accompanying documentation or material, except as permitted by this agreement, is prohibited and constitutes a material breach of this agreement and a violation of copyright and other intellectual property rights relating to the software, its documentation and materials. If you install, upload, access or otherwise copy or use all or part of the software without agreeing to the terms of this agreement or without otherwise obtaining written permission from the author, or failing to comply with this agreement, you will violate copyright and other intellectual property laws. You may be liable for damages against me and may be subject to criminal penalties.

If my authored software is obtained from non-partnered third parties, I am not obligated to support its use.

Support for using the software is restricted to this only. In no way will I support the use of any other software or engineering consultancy unless additional support is contracted for this purpose. This support can be done by email, Microsoft Teams or Google Meet and must be done during business hours in Brasília-DF.

Installation, access and continued use of the software requires license validation. This validation can occur online, and, in this case, the software must access the address https://tbn2net.com. Validation can also be offline; in which case a license file is generated and must be kept in the folder where the software is installed. This file will contain user data, as well as information about the software and license validity. These data are used exclusively to generate the file and are in no way disclosed, transferred, or transferred by me to third parties under any pretext. Therefore, you agree to provide this data during the software subscription process.

This use license is personal and non-transferable and is not sublicensable. No part of the software, be it the help file, menus, or example drawings, "dlls" or any other package file may be sold, loaned, or transferred to third parties under any circumstances.

It is permitted to make a backup copy of the software, but under no circumstances will a new license be generated for these copies.

The license may be linked to another computer or media, if payment is up to date and there is a justifiable reason for doing so.

The use of this software is made only on the computer where it is installed, not allowing the execution of the software from network connections. So little support is given for this. If it is necessary to use the software on more than one computer, the license must be linked to removable media.

Any attempt to circumvent this system of protection is considered a breach of contract and I am no longer obligated to support the use of the software in any way.

Any "bugs" found must be reported via email, so that it can be corrected. This will in no way imply a cost to whoever licenses the software and to me. The corrections of these bugs will be made available to all users of the software and whoever reports these "bugs" will not have any right, or monetary benefit of any kind arising from this report.

If you want to suggest new functionalities to be added to the software, you must do this via email and you will give me the idea free of charge and you will not have any monetary benefit from it, except those you get in the making of your projects using this.

There is no guarantee that the operation of the software will be uninterrupted or error free. The software is a tool intended for use by trained professionals only. It is not a substitute for technical evaluation by the professional.

Nor am I responsible for the results obtained while using the software. The software user is responsible for its supervision, management, and control. This responsibility includes, without limitation, determining the appropriate uses of the software and the selection of the same and other programs for to obtain the desired results. The user of the software is also responsible for determining the adequacy of independent procedures for testing the reliability and accuracy of any output produced by the software, including all items designed using its use.

In no event will I be liable for any incidental, special, indirect or consequential damages, lost profits, lost revenue – or loss of data – business interruption, or cost of coverage, due to the use of the software.

Software updates must be made exclusively at https://tbn2net.com.
